In mathematics, division by zero is division where the divisor (denominator) is zero. Such a division can be formally expressed as  $a/0$  where  $a$  is the dividend (numerator). In ordinary arithmetic, the expression has no meaning, as there is no number which, multiplied by 0, gives  $a$  (assuming  $a \neq 0$ ), and so division by zero is undefined. Since any number multiplied by zero is zero, the expression  $0 \dots$

Speed is the distance traveled divided by the time of travel. For example; if you were to travel a distance of 10 miles in 2 hours time, then your average speed equals 5 miles per hour.  $s=d/t$  ( $s$ =speed,  $d$ =distance,  $t$ =time, and the / means to divide). The word velocity is very similar to speed (except velocity also has a direction called a vector) and in most cases we will now use the letter "v ...

A mathematical joke is a form of humor which relies on aspects of mathematics or a stereotype of mathematicians to derive humor. The humor may come from a pun, or from a double meaning of a mathematical term, or from a lay person's misunderstanding of a mathematical concept. Mathematician and author John Allen Paulos in his book Mathematics and Humor described several ways that mathematics ...

PROBLEM POSING. Students have asked me, on several occasions, "Is there any math after calculus?" These students have been given the impression that the world of mathematics is both finite and linear (the classic algebra-through-calculus sequence).

I must confess that I own the TI-92 Plus, which lacks the on screen icons. However, I understand that they are otherwise the same. I own both the TI 83 and the TI-89, and this is far better. The 89 requires the Alpha key to enter text, a real pain.
