A Representative Concentration Pathway (RCP) is a greenhouse gas concentration (not emissions) trajectory adopted by the IPCC for its fifth Assessment Report (AR5) in 2014. It supersedes Special Report on Emissions Scenarios (SRES) projections published in 2000.. Four pathways have been selected for climate modeling and research, which describe different climate futures, all of which are ...

Chemically, black carbon (BC) is a component of fine particulate matter (PM \leq 2.5 μm in aerodynamic diameter). Black carbon consists of pure carbon in several linked forms. It is formed through the incomplete combustion of fossil fuels, biofuel, and biomass, and is emitted in both anthropogenic and naturally occurring soot.. Black carbon causes human morbidity and premature mortality.

by Frank Bosse. A few days ago a paper (Sato et al) dealing with some aspects of the 'Aerosol Cloud Interactions' (ACI, also called 'aerosol indirect effects') was released. It bolsters the conclusions of earlier papers: the effective radiative forcing from ACI (ERF_{aci}) is smaller than thought, perhaps near zero .. A discussion of Malavelle et al. (2017) and Stevens (2017), an ...

Summary . The Task Group 'RCP Concentrations Calculation and Data' harmonised and consolidated greenhouse gas concentration and emission datasets for the pre-industrial control runs, 20th century, and the Representative Concentration Pathways (RCPs).

A guest post by Nic Lewis. Introduction and summary. Recently a new model-based paper on climate sensitivity was published by Kate Marvel, Gavin Schmidt (the head of NASA GISS) and others, titled 'Internal variability and disequilibrium confound estimates of climate sensitivity from observations'™. It appears to me that the novel part of its analysis is faulty, and that the part which isn ...

Examines the science and arguments of global warming skepticism. Common objections like 'global warming is caused by the sun', 'temperature has changed naturally in the past' or 'other planets are warming too' are examined to see what the science really says.

This paper explores the impact of climate change upon the global production of winegrapes and wine. It includes a review of the literature on the cause and effects of climate change, as well as illustrations of the specific challenges global warming may bring to the production of winegrapes and wine.

by Judith Curry. The concern about sea level rise is driven primarily by projections of future sea level rise.

Observed sea level rise over the last century has averaged about 8 inches, although local values may be substantially more or less based on local vertical land motion, land use, regional ocean circulations and tidal variations.

I really dislike going down this road, but it's articles like this (Global Warming and Settled Science, in American Thinker) from today that confuse the global warming science debate and end up wasting my time as I get e-mails asking for comment. Now, those familiar with my views KNOW I'm a huge critic of the climate models used to predict global warming.
