Georg Baselitz. 1977-1992 - Exhibition at Michael Werner

Hans Georg Kern was born in 1938 in the Saxon village of Deutschbaselitz. In 1961 he adopted the name Georg Baselitz in homage to his birthplace. Since his first exhibition in 1963, Baselitz has been a controversial and polarising artist with a provocative style that is unique in contemporary painting.

The world of Georg Baselitz’s art is his recurring images and the memories of German expressionism of 1910, which is all about telling inner truths about reality. His world is the memories of 1950s and 1960s anxieties, the influence of the American avant-garde, Willem de Kooning and the painting style of 1980.
