Ubu Roi (Ubu the King or King Ubu) is a play by Alfred Jarry. It was first performed in Paris at the Théâtre de l'Œuvre, causing a riotous response in the audience as it opened and closed on December 10, 1896. It is considered a wild, bizarre and comic play, significant for the way it overturns cultural rules, norms, and conventions.

The oil drop experiment was performed by Robert A. Millikan and Harvey Fletcher in 1909 to measure the elementary electric charge (the charge of the electron).. The experiment entailed observing tiny electrically charged droplets of oil located between two parallel metal surfaces, forming the plates of a capacitor. The plates were oriented horizontally, with one plate above the other.

Black body radiation - Wikipedia

Black body radiation is the electromagnetic radiation emitted by a black body (an idealized object that absorbs all incident electromagnetic radiation) at a certain temperature. The spectrum of black body radiation is continuous and depends only on the temperature of the body. It is a fundamental concept in quantum mechanics and is used to explain the spectrum of the visible light from stars and the cosmic microwave background radiation.

Photoemission process - Wikipedia

The photoemission process is the emission of electrons from a material when it is illuminated by light of a sufficiently high frequency. The energy of the incident photons is used to overcome the work function of the material, which is the minimum energy required to remove an electron from the surface. The emitted electrons are called photoelectrons.
